FIRE PROOF IRON,

FOR
ROOFING, WINDOW SHUTTERS, &c

THE subscribers beg to call the attention of those interested in roofing to their GALVANIZED TIN PLATES and to the many advantages which they possess over all metalic and other substances hitherto used for this purpose, possessing as they do, the strength and lightness of iron without its liability to rust. Having now been a tested several years both in this country and Europe They are also less subject to expansion and contraction from sudden changes of the atmosphere, than common Tin Plate, Iron, Zinc, &c, or any other metal now used for roofing and consequently form a much better and tighter roof, requiring far less frequent repairing whilst the first cost is but a trifle more

The subscribers would also call the attention of dealers and workers in metals to the many other purposes to which this process of galvanizing can be applied In general terms it is applicable to all articles of iron which it is desirable to protect from the action of the atmosphere And they would especially call the attention of those interested in TELEGRAPHIC LINES to their Galvanized Wire which is now almost exclusively used in Europe for which purpose it answers every purpose as a conductor of electricity, costing only about one-half as much as copper and possessing equal durability with the metal

Having lately erected works in this city for the purpose of galvanizing Nails Spikes Bolts Wire &c, they will be able to furnish any article which may be desired A supply of Plates imported direct from Europe, for sale by them from 16 to 32 wire gauge GEO C MOREWOOD & CO

The Sugar-Coated Pills.

A NEW SARSAPARILLA PREPARATION,

To cure Diseases, Purify the Blood! To avoid them, keep it pure!!

That FREE DISPOSITION which exposes the human frame to the infectious influence of every class of disorders, proceeds directly or indirectly, from a morbid state of the system, caused by

IMPURE BLOOD.

HALSEY'S SUGAR COATED MAGIC LIFE PILLS The proprietor of the only true and genuine Sugar coated Pills, most respectfully informs the enlightened public, that this new and elegant preparation can be obtained only from advertised agents and at the proprietor's establishment No 32, Broadway, N York—Price 25 cents a single box, 5 boxes for one dollar

G W ADDIS Agent for Bangor

Among the numerous remedies which stand reputable on the basis of ancient name are some, perhaps which have acquired so great celebrity and extensive use in so short a time as this invaluable article—They have gained their high reputation, alone by their good works Those who once try them always use them and They are grateful to the stomach,—they improve the functions of secretion nutrition and circulation They restore digest an appetite and excite a natural warmth inwardly, which glows thro' the whole system, giving at greater vitality in an instant The experience of thousands attest to their good effects After using them for a short time the hitherto wretched invalid finds that all disagreeable and unhealthy humors have forsaken his system The digestive organs perform their proper functions, his blood regains its wonted purity the oppressive sense of weakness and pain in the parts, and his body soon acquires renewed and increased strength and vigor —while the mind assumes its original vivacity and clearness! Such are the results produced by Halsey's Sugar coated Pills the mildest yet most effectual preparation of the class in use

In BILIOUS complaints Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all other disorders of the stomach they produce the most happy results for Sores, Salt Rheum Tetter Erysipelas, Eruptions of the Skin, Scurf, Blotches, Pimples and many other like diseases arising from IMPURE BLOOD, they have become highly celebrated Hundreds of certificates have been received from individuals who after having taken them for a few weeks, (according to the directions which accompany the box) were cured of the most afflicting cases of scrofulous affections They give Good Blood for Bad Bottles of the boasted Sarsaparilla contain less of the true principle and valuable plant and are less effectual than a single box of these extraordinary Pills In Colds Coughs, Influenza, Sore Throat, Headache Giddiness &c they are recommended with confidence the relief in these cases is quick and permanent For Fever and Ague, Fevers Asthma Piles, Loss of Appetite Dropsy, Jaundice Worms, Looseness General Debility, and many of the various other diseases to which the human system is subject they have proved an infallible remedy There action on the bowels is of the mildest character, even cases of piles never cause griping or unpleasantness, yet they are searching and efficient. It is impossible by words to give adequate idea of the great and good effects these pills produce and their superiority over every other remedy of a similar class, a trial only will explain the wide difference Use no spurious imitation after having tried one, a single box of them will with any for the unexampled change wrought in his health bear testimony to their tremendous virtues

N B The coating of sugar adds nothing to the great virtues of the Magic Life Pills, it is their uncommon powers in promoting health, on which all their merits stand, notwithstanding this they are the original sugar coated pills The proprietor made this valuable improvement to preserve their curative virtues entire as well as to render them pleasant to take, yet unwise individuals of no integrity have counterfeited other pills, and imposed them through credulous and silly pretension to a patent are distributing them about the country, deceiving the public by disposing of them unjustly through the ready acquired reputation and popularity of the genuine Halsey's Sugar-coated Pills In order to get the true and original sugar coated pills, see that the engraved signature (G W Halsey) is on the label of each box, and buy only of advertised agents

TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1847.

The idle pretentions of the Loco Press regarding the Business of the Country—A glimpse at the Future.

The Locofoco press are just now taking advantage of a very unnatural state of business, to [illegible] as well as apparent prosperity [illegible] is the natural and foreseen results of [illegible] measures of the administration.—[illegible] just at this moment, to claim every [illegible] and to assume all the responsibilities [illegible] and political economists. There may [illegible] believe these pretensions, and who [illegible] Locofocoism as a working practical [illegible] for the purpose of giving a slight cursory [illegible] as our press is concerned, we would [illegible] to a few facts; which have necessarily [illegible] way, in the general course of our [illegible] reading, [illegible] this, the scarcity of provisions in Europe is of course no political party in this [illegible] anything to do with. This scarcity [illegible] of course, caused a great and unprecedented [illegible] for provisions here; to be sent for[illegible] great, indeed, was the necessity in Europe, [illegible] provisions, that the policy of that government [illegible] for a time with so much pertenacity, [illegible] duties were lessened, and at length [illegible] thrown open. Not only so, but the British [illegible] came under an obligation to pay [illegible] provisions and clothing sent to [illegible] shing, in charity from the United [illegible] able appeals were made to the [illegible] nobility and the wealthy of all [illegible] and, to contribute to the relief of [illegible] sands, dying for the want of food.—[illegible] sales have been made and are being [illegible] itizens of our own country.

[illegible] plus of provisions in our country was [illegible] be large, and generally believed, sufficiently all deficiencies throughout the known [illegible] but, notwithstanding the capacity to [illegible] supply the demand, it was naturally to [illegible] that on so great a demand being made [illegible] provisions would rise, sufficiently so, at [illegible] the holders to for vard them from the [illegible] terior to ports of shipment, even out of [illegible] ason and usual modes of transportation. [illegible] mand and increase of price could not fail [illegible] ut the country, and increase the wealth of [illegible] and others holding provisions. Up to this [illegible] then, all the results are to be referred to the [illegible] of short crops in Europe and of full crops [illegible] The Administration of the Govern[illegible] nothing to do with it. Mr Polk did not [illegible] it. Legislation did not effect it.—[illegible] ould neither cause or prevent it.

[illegible] se in the rates of freight affected a large [illegible] son the Atlantic border, and has brought [illegible] wealth into the pockets of ship owners. It [illegible] quite an unlooked for result, and which made [illegible] rt parcel of the Locofoco policy.

[illegible] worthy of note and of consideration, that a [illegible] of the increase of the price of provisions, [illegible] when the whole country seems to have supplied [illegible] that money was coming over from Europe to [illegible] for provisions, and thus stimulating prices by [illegible] ing into the currency of our country the coins [illegible] Europe, that the Banks in New York commenced a rapid increase in their discounts, and for [illegible] last three months have expanded their circulation [illegible] millions of dollars.

[illegible] ring the same time, commercial credits have [illegible] extended, and although our exports have [illegible] increased, our imports have at the same [illegible] crease in larger proportion, making the [illegible] against us, of imports over exports, a million [illegible] dollars greater than the correspond ng three [illegible] in 1846, in the city of New York alone. This [illegible] ged to be a fair criterion by which to judge of the whole country, so far as respects exports and imports.

Six millions of specie brought into the country [illegible] as been on commercial speculation, mainly, [illegible] notes issued by banks to purchase bills of exchange.

[illegible] increase importations have been made under the temptations of the Locofoco Tariff, and increased amount of exports. The result will [illegible] the country, sooner or later, that the product of foreign labor, some of them in direct and [illegible] ful competition with the labor of our own country, [illegible] are to pay for the provisions we have for[illegible] to Europe. The specie came in on specu[illegible] and when the tide turns will return to its [illegible] nal locality—the city of London.

[illegible] n addition to the expansion of the currency, already [illegible] ected, the Government has contributed not [illegible] little to a further expansion by the issue of notes [illegible] and warrants. The effect of all this is just now to cause superficial observers of the ope ation of business to conduct their affairs as though all this expansion of currency, and the influx of goods on foreign credits, were the result of so much accumulated wealth. There is, too, a determination to this [illegible] party, among manufacturers, ship builders, and [illegible] s, to push their business to the closest and [illegible] competition with foreigners, however favorable [illegible] foreign labor the policy of the Government [illegible]

The Government itself is doing business [illegible] enormous business too, so far as funds are [illegible] ed, on borrowed capital. We are all, government and people, at present, in the midst of a [illegible] The waking hour will come, but how [illegible] in what condition we shall then be, is [illegible] to tell. There is imminent peril, however [illegible] is the part of wisdom to be prepared for [illegible] We are not alarmists. We wish to excite [illegible] fears, but we would utter a kindly [illegible] warning against relying upon present pri[illegible] present prospects, as the natural result of [illegible] sent policy of the government, for we feel [illegible] that such a conclusion is not warranted by [illegible] and may lead to wide spread disasters.—[illegible] business of the country is now effected in all [illegible] anches by accidents and other disturbing [illegible] es, which may never again occur, and which [illegible] soon subside. When order is restored, and [illegible] natural operation of natural causes shall produce [illegible] their effects, we expect to see a great [illegible] change, and one by no means to be desired, here[illegible] those causes, now overcome or neutralized, [illegible] be disastrous.

Organization of the City Council.

A convention of the City Council elect was formed at the City Hall yesterday at 10 o'clock. The convention was called to order by the Mayor.

Rev. Mr Malthy read a few appropriate passages of Scripture, and then offered a prayer.

The City Clerk read the resolve of the Board of Aldermen declaring the election of CHARLES HAYWARD, Esq., Mayor of the city.

The Mayor inquired of Mr Hayward if he accepted the office. He replied that he did, and was ready to take the oath of office. It was administered to him by the Mayor, who then conducted him to the chair.

The oath of office was then administered by the Mayor to the Aldermen and Common Councilmen.

The Mayor delivered in a clear and graceful manner, a neatly written and appropriate address.

The two branches of the City Council retired to their respective rooms. On calling the Board of Aldermen to order, the Mayor made an address, evincing great delicacy of feeling, and generously asking their co-operation, counsel and aid, in the new and important station he was called upon to fill.

The usual orders adopting rules and orders, directing the Mayor's address to be printed, appointing committees on unfinished business, and on the number of subordinate officers to be chosen, were passed, and the Board adjourned.

The Common Council was organized by the choice of Gen. Sam'l P. Sickland, President, and George Perry, Esq., Clerk.

City Affairs.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN,
March 13, 1847.

The annual reports of the several departments were read, accepted and referred to the next City Council.

The laying out of Gay street was accepted.

All the business before the Board having been disposed of, Alderman Drummond offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Board be presented to Joseph Bryant, Esquire, for the assiduously faithful manner, in which he has discharged the arduous and responsible duties of Mayor of the City; and also for the very courteous manner, in which he has presided over the deliberations of this Board, during the past municipal year.

In offering the resolution Alderman Drummond said—

Mr President, another municipal year has come to a close. This branch of the City Government has come to the winding up of its labors, and the municipal affairs of another year.

As members of the Board, we are about to separate; and pleasant indeed is the reflection, if we can look upon the past review of the past, find nothing in all our intercourse with you and with each other to which our memories cannot recur but with satisfaction.

We have had a large amount perhaps may say an unusually large amount and variety of business before us during the year, some of which has been of rather a perplexing character, involving questions of considerable interest to our fellow citizens—questions that have struck different minds in different ways; yet while honestly differing in opinion, and at times with some degree of warmth and feeling, I trust every member has the consciousness of having acted according to his best judgment, and with the best interest of the city at heart; and it is gratifying to reflect, that nothing like bitter feeling has been manifested, no harsh epithets have been used or recriminations indulged in. Indeed, no difference of feeling has existed with us, I trust, has been, any since lost in oblivion.

And I assure you sir, in my feelings, no reflection is more gratifying.

It is also a considerable gratification to me Sir, that while we were selected by our constituents, irrespective of political preferences, and from different political parties, where we may have acted on other occasions with much warmth and zeal, yet as members of this Board, I am happy to believe that no one has for a moment suffered his political views to interfere with or sway his judgment in transacting the legitimate business of the Board. And it is with pleasure that I here offer my testimony against forming a City Government upon any political basis. And now sir, after the labors and perplexities of the year, we are about to separate, some of us to enter anew upon the labors and responsibilities of another municipal year, and some of us to the comforts and retirement of private life.

To those of our number who have been so fortunate as to receive a renewed testimonial of the confidence of our fellow citizens, I need not remind you, that your duties are arduous, and responsible, and while we would utter no word of discouragement we may be permitted to say, that the position on the laurels may not boast as the third putt is off—we leave our share of the trust in your hands. Gentlemen, with entire confidence, and may integrity and uprightness preserve you.

To you, Mr President, while I trust the Resolution which I am about to offer will find a hearty response in every bosom and from every voice, allow me to assure you sir, that you carry with you from every member of this Board, in the delightful circle, and to the cares and business of life, our best wishes for your future prosperity and happiness. And in conclusion allow me Gentlemen, to express the hope that in the discharge of every duty in life, we have the smiles of an approving conscience and an approving God so that having fulfilled life's great end, we may be permitted to come to its close in peace.

And when all Councils of Earth shall have ended, and the affairs of human life shall have been wound up, then may we be united in higher and holier employments where separations shall be no more known.

The resolution passed unanimously.

The Mayor responded as follows:—

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen,

I receive with sentiments of gratitude the kind expressions of your approbation of my conduct, as presiding officer of this board, manifested by the resolve you have just passed. I had been my wish to perform the duties of the office correctly and with strict impartiality, and if I have failed it has been an error of the head and not of the heart.

I have been so fortunate as to deserve your approbation, "has been chiefly owing to the gentlemanly conduct which has uniformly prevailed here, and which has rendered my duties easy and pleasant."

The time has arrived when we are about to separate and some of us to engage exclusively in the business of private life. Accept Gentlemen my grateful acknowledgments for your uniform kind-ness, and my best wishes for your individual prosperity and happiness.

The Board then adjourned without day.

In Common Council.

The business before the Council having been disposed of—

Silas C Hatch Esq offered the following resolution and was supported by the following remarks:

Resolved, That the thanks of this board be presented to John McDonald, Esq. for the impartial, able and gentlemanly manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the past municipal year, and by which he has won the confidence and satisfaction of us, his colleagues, and has thereby contributed to our own comfort and welfare.

Mr President and Gentlemen of this Council.

Our labors for the past year are now brought to a close, and we are about to resign to other hands the municipal trust committed to our care. Our Association as members of this board has been a pleasant one, and I think we all can console ourselves with the reflection that we have endeavored to discharge the duties assigned us, with fidelity, and to the best of our ability, and in such a manner as would best promote the interests of our constituents. If at any time feelings otherwise than those of friendship have been engendered by words spoken in debate it is pleasing to know if at those feelings have ceased to exist, and never interfered with our relation as citizens.

Our duties as Councilmen are now finished and I take great pleasure in offering the resolution which I hold in my hand, and doubt not the sentiment therein expressed will meet the with unanimous approval of this board.

Judge McDonald, the President, replied as follows:—

GENTLEMEN: I thank you for your good wishes, and for the assistance you have rendered me while occupying this place. The duties of the chair, have been made easy and pleasant by your kind aid and support.

It has been my misfortune to disagree with you in one instance in deciding a quest on of Order. I believe, there has been but one instance of disagreement between us, at the time of that disagreement I was fully persuaded that I was right, and I have since consulted several gentlemen well acquainted with parliamentary usage and they sustained my ruling.

I hope gentlemen you will excuse me when I say, that in your decision of that question, I think you were misled by the erroneous example set us by the Board of Aldermen. In that matter a uniformity was necessary, and it was better for us to submit to the wrong, rather than insist upon the right where the error was in form only.

Gentlemen, some of you are about to dissolve your connection with the Administration of the City Government. Your labors will remain unequitted, excepting by that reward which honest men are always permitted to have, a consciousness of having it endeavored those who remain connected with the City Government, hope they may receive your advice and counsel.

Our interest as Bangorenians are the same. Let us gentlemen, seek especially to fortify the minds of the youth of our beloved city with elevated and pure principles, guarding them from the seductive influences of vice and hedging up the avenues to sin.

Gentlemen you have my warmest wishes for your welfare.

The Council then adjourned without day.

Remarks of Mr. Webster,

OF MASSACHUSETTS,

On the Three Million Bill.

IN THE SENATE, OF THE UNITED STATES,
March 1, 1847.

The Senate having under consideration, the Three Million Bill, and the question having been put on the engrossment of the Bill for its third reading—

Mr. Webster said: If my health had been better and more of me had remained to us, it was my purpose to address the Senate on the bill before it, and also on several topics with which its is connected. This purpose, under existing circumstances, I must necessarily forego. The true origin of the war with Mexico, and the many sad and grievous results which it was originally commenced, however ably discussed already, are subjects not yet exhausted. I have been particularly desirous of avoiding them. I am grieved, I confess, Mr. President, if we shall not ere long see facts coming to the light, and circumstances both concealing and concurring, which will fasten the Executive Government a more definite and distinct purpose, intended to be effected without the co-operation of others, in bringing on hostilities with Mexico, than has as yet been clearly developed or fully understood.

At present, I should hardly have risen but to lay before the Senate the resolutions of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts, adopted on Thursday last. We have had a great deal of commentary and criticism on State resolutions brought before Congress of Michigan particularly, have been very sharply and narrowly looked into, to see if they really mean what they seem to mean. These resolutions of Massachusetts I hope are sufficiently distinct and decided. They admit of neither doubt nor anavil, even if doubt and cavil were permissible in such a case. What the Legislature of Massachusetts thinks, it has said, and said plainly and directly. Mr. President I have not before any tribunal, tried what the lawyers call a special demurrer for many years, and I never tried it here, in the Senate. In the business of legislation, and especially in considering State resolutions and the proceedings of public assemblies, it is our duty, of course, to understand every thing according to the common meaning of the words used. Of all occasions, these are the last in which one should stick in the bark, or seek for loop holes or means of escape; or, in the language of an eminent judge of former times, snuff and hang on pins and particles." We must take the substance fairly and as it is, and not be too late about forms and phrases. When public bodies address us, whether we comply with their wishes or not, we are at least bound to understand them as they mean to be understood; to seek for no subterfuges; and to rely on no far-fetched and subtle difficulties or exceptions. All such a tempts will be justly regarded only as so many contrivances, resorted to, to get rid of the responsibility of meeting the question voluntarily, to express the hope that the discharge of every duty in life, we have the smiles of an approving conscience and an approving God so that having fulfilled life's great end, we may be permitted to come to its close in peace.

And when all Councils of Earth shall have ended, and the affairs of human life shall have been wound up, then may we be united in higher and holier employments where separations shall be no more known.

The resolution passed unanimously.

The Mayor responded as follows:—

In Common Council.

The business before the Council having been disposed of—

Silas C Hatch Esq offered the following resolution and was supported by the following remarks:

Resolved, That the thanks of this board be presented to John McDonald, Esq. for the impartial, able and gentlemanly manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the past municipal year, and by which he has won the confidence and satisfaction of us, his colleagues, and has thereby contributed to our own comfort and welfare.

Mr President and Gentlemen of this Council.

Our labors for the past year are now brought to a close, and we are about to resign to other hands the municipal trust committed to our care.

I will read sir, the Massachusetts Resolutions:

"Resolved unanimously, That the Legislature of Massachusetts view the existence of human slavery within the limits of the United States as a great calamity—an immense moral and political evil, which ought to be abolished as soon as that end can be properly and constitutionally attained; and that its extension should be uniformly and earnestly opposed by all good and patriotic men throughout the Union.

"Resolved unanimously That the people of Massachusetts will strenuously resist the annexation of any new territory to this Union, in which the institution of slavery is to be tolerated or established; and the Legislature, in behalf of the Commonwealth, do hereby solemnly protest against the acquisition of any additional territory, without an express provision by Congress that there shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in such territory, otherwise than for the punishment of crime."

Sir, is there any possibility of misunderstanding it? Is there any escape from the meaning of this language? And yet they are hardly more explicit than the resolutions of other Legislatures—Michigan, New York, Vermont, and all the rest.

The House of Representatives of Massachusetts is, I believe, the most numerous legislative body in the country. On this occasion it was not full, but among those present there was an entire unanimity. For the resolutions there were 232 votes; against them, not one. Not one man stood up to justify the war upon such grounds as those upon which it has been, from day to day, defended here. Massachusetts, without one dissenting voice—and I thank her for it—has arrayed herself for her conscientious opinions. Is anything in her past history inconsistent with the whole object for which our armies are now traversing the mountains of Mexico, or about to plunge into the pestilence of her coasts. The people of Massachusetts are as unanimous as the members of their Legislature; and as are her Representatives here. I have heard no man in the State, in public or in private life express a different opinion. If anything is certain, it is certain that the sentiments of the whole North is utterly opposed to the acquisition of territory to be formed into new Slave-holding States, and as such admitted into the Union.

But here, sir, I cannot but pause. I am arrested by this one sentence of this night, which I confess, I like with alarm. They are ominous, portentious votes which have been at last passed by majorities here, can not fail to arrest public attention. Every patriotic American, every man who wishes to preserve the constitution, ought to consider them well. I heard, sir, the honorable member from New York, (Mr. Dix) and with a great part of his remarks I agreed; I thought they must lead to some useful result. But, here, when it does become real, when it is not for accepting territory under the Wilmot proviso, but a day rate, he is for acquiring territory. He will not vote against all territory to form new States, though he is willing to say they ought not to be slave States. Other gentlemen of his party from the Northern and Eastern States vote in the same way and with the same view. This is called the "policy of the Northern Democracy." I so denominate the party only, because such a denomination is for a gentleman from South Carolina, (Mr. Butler,) if I understand him rightly, said he wanted no new territory; all he desired was equality and non-extension; he wished the South to be saved from any thing derogatory; and yet he does not vote against the acquisition of territory. Nor do the Senators from Southern States. They prefer, in general in favor of new territory and new States, being slave States. This is the policy of Southern Democracy. Both parties agree, therefore, to carry on the war for territory; though it has not decided now whether the characters of new acquired territory shall be those of freedom or slavery. This no one of these three parties is willing to leave for future agitation and future controversy. Gentlemen who have voted for the Wilmot proviso are ready nevertheless to vote for the bill, though that proviso be left out. The gentleman from New York is ready for both, and his Northern and Eastern friends, who sit round him here in the Senate, are as ready as he is. They all demand acquisition and maintain the war for that purpose. On the other hand, the other branch of the party vote against and unitedly for territory, the Wilmot proviso being rejected, because these gentlemen take it for granted that that proviso being rejected, States for and out of Mexico will necessarily be slave States, and added to this Union. Such is the case.

Now, sir, it has appeared to me from the beginning that the proposition contained in the amendment which was submitted some days ago, by my friend the honorable member from Georgia is the true, and only true policy for us to pursue. That resolution was in these words:

Provided, always, And it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of Congress in making this appropriation, that no war with Mexico ought not to be prosecuted by the Government with any view to the dismemberment of that Republic, or to the acquisition by conquest of any part of her territory; that this Government ever desires to maintain and preserve peaceful and friendly relations with that nation and, particularly with the neighboring Republic of Mexico, will always be ready to enter into negotiations, with any authority authorized to negotiate, for the settlement of any conflict or terms which shall secure the just rights and preserve by appropriate the national honor of the United States and of Mexico; that it is especially desirable, and ought to maintain and preserve those amicable relations which ought always to exist between neighboring Republics, that the boundary of the State of Texas should be definitely settled, and that provision be made by the Republic of Mexico for the prompt and equitable settlement of the just claims of our citizens on that Republic."

This amendment rejected all idea of the dismemberment of Mexico, all intention of territory by conquest; it signifies a wish for the speedy restoration of peace, and a readiness on our part to enter into negotiations, and to treat, not only for peace, but also for boundaries and commodities. This amendment has been rejected; and now I come to the point. What has rejected it? By whose votes? Is this a friend went, this very evening, a single member from New York and the Northeast and Eastern friends. It has been voted down by the "Northern Democracy." Why? Because the "Northern Democracy" had supported this amendment, it would have prevailed, and we should then have had no new territory at all; and of course no new slave territory; no new States at all, and consequently no new slave States. This is certain and indisputable. If the Senate had acted upon what that resolution proposes, the door would have been closed. But these gentlemen would not vote for it. To a man, they voted against it. Every member of the Senate belonging to the party, in the Northern States, however warmly they may have declared themselves against new slave States, have refused to vote against all territorial acquisition; a measure proposed and offered to them as a perfect security against more slave States. They are for acquiring territory; they are for new States; and, for the sake of this, they are willing to run the risk of those new States being slave States, and to meet all the consequences which the discussion of that momentous question may produce. Sir, if there be will or prudence or consistency, or an honest, or comprehensive foresight in all this, I cannot see it.

The amendment of the honorable member from Georgia was supported by the votes of twenty-four members of the Senate. Twenty-nine members voted against it. Of these twenty-nine, there were against the proviso present Northern and Eastern States, viz. one from Maine, one from New Hampshire, one from Connecticut, two from New York, and one from Pennsylvania. If these six members had voted for the resolution, they would have turned the majority, and there would, from that moment, have been no apprehension of new slave territory or new slave States. Against the resolution, also, we heard the voices of five members from the free States in the Northwest, viz. one from Ohio, two from Indiana, one from Michigan, and one from Illinois.

So it is evident that, if all the senators from the free States had voted for the amendment, and against the acquisition of territory, such acquisition would have been denounced in advance, by a majority two-thirds of the whole Senate, and the question of power to make slave States settled forever. For, let me say to you, sir, and to the country, that whenever this question is settled, it must be settled in the Senate. It might have been settled here, this night, and settled finally and forever.

Mr. President, I arraign no man and no parties. I take no judgement into my own hands. But I present this simple statement of facts and consequences to the country, and ask for it, humbly but most earnestly, the serious consideration of the people. Shall we prosecute this war for the purpose of bringing on a controversy which is likely to shake the Government to its centre?

And now, sir, who are the twenty-four members who supported the amendment of the member from Georgia? They are the Whigs of the Senate—Whigs from the North and the South, the East and the West. In their judgement it is due to the best interests of the country, to its safety, to peace and harmony, and to the well working of the constitution, to declare at once, to proclaim now, that we desire no new States, nor territory to form new States out of, as the end of conquest. For one, I enter into this declaration with all my heart. We want no extension of territory; we want no accession of new States. The country is already large enough. I do not speak of any reason which may be made in the establishment of boundaries, or of the acquisition of a port or two on the Pacific, for the benefit of navigation and commerce. But I speak of large territories, obtained by conquest, to form States to be annexed to the Union, and I say I am opposed to such acquisition altogether. I am opposed to the prosecution of the war for any such purpose.

Mr. President, I must be indulged here in a short retrospection. In the present posture of things and of parties we may well look back upon the past. Within a year or two after Texas had achieved its independence there were those who already spoke of its annexation, to the United States. Against that project I felt it my duty to take an early and a decided course, having occasion to address political friends in the city of New York in March, 1837, I expressed my sentiments as fully and as strongly as I could. From those opinions I have never swerved. From the first I saw nothing, and have seen nothing, but evil and danger to arise to the country from such annexation. The prudence of Mr Van Buren stifled the project for a time; but in the latter part of the administration of Mr. Tyler it was revived. Sir, the transactions and occurrences, from that time onward till the measure was finally consummated in December, 1845, are matters of history, and record. That history and that record can neither be falsified nor erased. There they stand, and stand forever. And I say proclaim to the whole world, and to all ages, that Texas was brought into this Union, slavery and all, only by means of the aid and active co-operation of those who now call themselves the "Northern Democracy" of the United States; in other words, by those who assert their right to be regarded as nearest and dearest to the people among all the public men of the country. When was the honorable member from New York, where was the Northern and Eastern friends, when Texas was pressing to get into the Union, bringing slaves and slavery with her? Where were they, I ask. Were they standing up like men against slaves and slavery? Was the annexation of a new slave State an object which "Northern Democracy" opposed, or from which it averted its eyes with horror?

Sir, the gentleman from New York and his friends were consulting and assisting, aiding and abetting, the whole proceeding. Some of them were voting here as eagerly as if the salvation of the country depended on bringing in another slave State. Others of us from the North opposed it as far as we could. We remonstrated, we protested we voted; but the "Northern Democracy" helped to out-vote us, to defeat us.—And they accomplished their purpose. Nay, more. The party in the North, which calls itself, by way of distinction and eminence, the "Liberty Party," opposed, with all its force, the election of the Whig candidate in 1844, when it had the power of assisting in and securing the election of that candidate, and of preventing Mr. Polk's election; and when it was as clear and visible as the sun at noon-day, that Mr Polk's election would bring slaveholding Texas into the Union. No man can deny this. And in the party of his "Northern Democracy," and in this "Liberty Party," too, probably are those, at this moment, who profess themselves ready to meet all the consequences, to stand the chance of all convulsions, to see the fountains of the great deep broken up, rather than that new slave States should be added to the Union. But who never shall be, will not join with us in a declaration against the acquisition of slave territory, and thereby shutting the door forever against the further admission of slavery.

Here, sir, is a chapter of political inconsistency which demands the consideration of the country, and is not unlikely to attract the attention of the age. It is to anything but party attachment, carried recklessly, to every extent, and party antipathy maddened into insanity, I know not how to describe it.

Sir, I fear we are not yet arrived at the beginning of the end. I pretend to see but little of the future, and that little gives no gratification. All I see is contention, strife, and agitation. Before we obtain perfect right to conquered territory, there must be a cession. A cession can only be made by treaty. No treaty can pass the Senate, till the Constitution is overthrown, without the consent of two thirds of its members. How who can shut his eyes to the great probability of a successful resistance to any treaty of cession, from one quarter of the States or another? Will the North consent to a treaty bringing in territory subject to slavery? Will the South consent to a treaty bringing in territory from which slavery is excluded? Sir, the future is full of difficulties and full of danger. We are suffering to pass the golden opportunity for securing harmony and the stability of the constitution. We appear to me to be rushing upon perils headlong, and with our eyes wide open. But I put my trust in Providence, and in that good sense and patriotism of the people, which will yet, I hope, arouse them to save before it is too late.

SALE'S PATENT RUBBER MACHINE BELTING,

For Sale by LUKE C CHILDS 67 Water St, BOSTON
THE above superior article is fast superceding the use of Leather Belting as for most pur poses it is in every way better Its good qualities are that no degree of moisture will affect or will bear almost any degree of heat It is of equal width and thickness throughout and requires only one lacing in the longest belt Practical mechan ics who have used the patented manufacture, think there is again of 15 to 20 per cent in the power of the machinery as it is perfectly flexible and runs with much less friction upon the pul leys and drums

Blood Croup Hooping Cough Fa tigue or the Heart Nervous Tremors, &c

IN introducing this medicine to the public we deem it proper to state for the information of those at a distance, that it is the preparation of a regular graduate of the University of Pennsylvania a physician of twenty years practice The above the standing of Dr Davis and the character of his medicine we offer the following editorial notices from newspapers of Philadelphia—

From the American Sentinel Dec 16, 1845
In our advertising columns will be found a notice of Dr Davis's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar Dr D W is a regular and respectable physi cian of the city, and we have had placed before us and shall publish from time to time valuable citizens, the most satisfactory evidence of the extraordinary virtues of his medicine

From the Spirit of the Times Dec 16 1845
We ask attention to the advertisements of Dr
Davis's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar Dr D is a respectable physician of many years practice and the testimonials of which he offers in this medicine is supported by most ample and satisfactory testimonials—Among the certificates will observe the names of a number of well known and respectable citizens.

From the Christian Reposit ory, Dec 13, 1845
We insert in another column an advertisement of Messrs Robinson & Co in this city to which we take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers We do this more cheerfully from the care of Bro Barnes with which he appears to treat Bro Is a member of the M E Church in good standing and those who know him personally (as we do) have the fullest confidence in any statement he may give of the efficacy of any medicine which he may have tested

From the Phila Daily Keystone, Nov 23, 1845
A Valuable Medicine—Mr Downing will com mence publishing a series of testimonials in fa vour of a new and popular medicine for pulmonary diseases—Dr Davis's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar We are happy to say that we are personally acquainted with that respectable physi cian, as well as with a number of the gentlemen, who are gentlemen of the first respectability, and every con fidence may be placed in their statements It strikes us that the public generally will agree in entitled to the attention of the afflicted

From the Pennsylvanian Dec 1, 1845
We refer our readers to our advertising columns for a notice of Dr Davis's Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar, for affections of the lungs, a disease described in the present age more often old Bureas has so evidently and his rough hand upon us attacking our lungs in gale after gale. Other certificates will be continued from day to day W may add that we are acquainted with Dr Davis and also with a number of the persons who testify to the good effects of the medicine and can vouch for their respectability, and its genuine ness

The above medicine may be procured of Messrs

CONSUMPTION CURED!

BUCHAN'S

HUNGARIAN BALSAM OF LIFE.

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY

For Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and other Diseases of the CHEST and LUNGS.

HUNGARIAN BALSAM the Great remedy for Incipient and Pulmonary Consumption is unrivalled and unsurpassed as the only safe, speedy, and effectual curative of these complaints, now known to the civilized world.

Extracts from the United States dispensatory, showing the estimation in which Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life is held by the most eminent physicians of the country, as the great and RELIABLE REMEDY for the cure of Pulmonary disease, and the best available curative of all the slight forms of inflammation that can possibly be

CONSUMPTION OF BLOOD! This fearful symptom of consumption is speedily checked and cause of Buchan's Hungarian Balsam, the affected membrane, removed, the irritated, and even these vital organs, the whole body restored to NIGHT SWEATS! This distressing symptom of consumption is a pre eminent merit of this invaluable remedy, as the great and

RELIABLE REMEDY for the cure of Pulmonary disease, and the best available curative of all the slight forms of inflammation that can possibly be

LIVER COMPLAINT! In case of Consumption the liver is in a more or less affected, and also the Spleen, Heart and all internal Organs, the consumptive patients fluencies are often found in all these organs particularly upon the Liver, which also is usually only and swelled. This effect of the Hungarian Balsam in diseases of the Liver especially of a chronic nature is a perfect and powerful remedy. Diseases of the Liver, unattended by Consumption is [illegible] cured by its use WINTER COUGH. The hard dry hacking winter cough which afflicts old people and invalids in a low state of health is happily relieved by the Hungarian Balsam.

It warms moistens and stimulates the whole breathing apparatus removes all morbid matter and other foulness, purifies and enriches the blood, improves the secretive power of the Liver Spleen, and in fact tones up the digestive organs, and imparts new life to the whole and emaciated system.

BRONCHITIS Even this difficulty of Breathing Harsh Cough, skinny expectoration, with all other pains caused by an affection of the air tubes of the lungs, is directly assailed and cured by the use of the Hungarian remedy, viz. Dr Buchan.

This is a very painful wearing and injurious complaint and always has a powerful tendency to inflame and soften the Lungs and thereby to induce the worst form of Pulmonary disease. Be warned in time ye afflicted! and employ this truly valuable remedy at once.

TUBERCLES OR THE LUNGS! The Hungarian Balsam is the only popular remedy which has any power to dissolve, remove and cure Tubercles on the Lungs. Incredible as this is generally esteemed we have the most abundant and conclusive evidence to sustain the assertion that such is its direct and immediate effect, in all cases where there is no material organic defect. In fact, so confident are the American Agents of its power to cure the worst form of this disease that he prefers (as he has frequently stated) that it should be used by invalids who have been PRONOUNCED INCURABLE by the most eminent physicians rather than by persons affected with some slighter form of disease—in order that its triumphs might be more apparent. He boldly declares that it will cure Tuberculous disease and confidently solicits a trial in the worst of cases.

EXPECTORATION! Free Expectoration is the most important object to be attained in all attempts to cure diseases of the Chest and Lungs. The Cough which is so distressing is simply the result of a desire to expectorate, and as long as foul matter exists in the air passage it will continue to irritate the membrane and provoke a cough. Coughing is an attempt to throw off this matter and expectoration gives great relief. Inability to expectorate in the latter stages of Consumption is the cause of death.

The Hungarian Balsam is a great Expectorant—It dissolves the morbid and diseased matter in the air passage changes it from a thick, glutinous substance to a thin harmless fluid, and throws it off with the greatest possible ease and comfort to the patient. There is no better medicine in the world if its expectorating quality alone be considered.

SPASMODIC ASTHMA Simple or Spasmodic Asthma, has no better remedy than the Hungarian Balsam. This painful and destructive affection which resists almost every thing else, yields to the all powerful influence of this great remedy as readily as any other form of Pectoral disease.

CONSUMPTION! Consumption has been graphically described as a "Shrinking of one self!" The Hungarian Balsam by its cleansing, warming softening and animating power, produces, not shrinking but expansion!

Before its delightful influence all chills, fever night sweats, costiveness, blueness of the nails, a hot flushed skin, an uncertain strength emaciation and decline—disappear, like the poisonous dews of night before the glorious morning sun! This is no delusion but demonstrable fact, sustained by incontestible proof from all parts of the country.

BE WISE TO DAY Delay in any case of Consumption is dangerous, is emphatically Death, under all ordinary treatment. The Hungarian Balsam is a sure ANTIDOTE as well as CURATIVE. If you have any symptoms above described, be advised in time
